

BEER & FOOD

– RECIPES, REPORTAGE, MICRO-BREWERIES

Contents:

A little Beer School
A passion for beer
Beer and snacks
Beer and herring
Beer in food
Beer in desserts
Beer vocabulary
Index
A checklist for beer-tasting

Öl & Mat – Recept, reportage, mikrobryggerier

Cecilia Björk Tengå and Malin Kågerman Hansén
190 x 225, 130p

Beer & Food is a dedicated cookbook for beer lovers.

Here, various types of beer are used as ingredients when making food, to provide the basic taste or as an extra taste. A good acidity from wheat beer makes for new taste sensations in an ordinary chicken fillet, a musty porter gives that extra something to your autumn casserole, and crispy brown ale will get your cockle soup going.

Here, too, of course, are the classics like porter steak and casserole of beef and potatoes which acquire their special character from beer. But above all you will find lots of new exciting combinations of food and beer, such as fast gravad beer-salmon, gueze-marinated chicken, Asian blue mussels in beer, cherry beer parfait with abbey beer caramel... to name just some examples from the book.

The trend with micro-breweries and the selection of traditionally-brewed beer is growing bigger all the time. So there is every reason too to enjoy the good beers as they are, with something tasty to go with them. In Beer & Food there are suggestions for really tasty snacks, with both classic and newly-created herring dishes and quick recipes for side dishes.

Besides the sixty or so recipes for food made with beer, or food to go with beer, the book presents a little Beer School which guides the reader among various types of beer (pale ale, porter, lager, Bavarian, abbey beers, wheat beer, etc.) a short history of beer, a description of how beer is made and how beer-tasting is arranged.

About the authors:

Cecilia Björk Tengå and Malin Kågerman Hansén have previously published five cookery books, the most recent three years ago, Före & Efter about delicious starters and desserts.

LIND & CO

BENNET AGENCY
SÖDER MÄLARSTRAND 21
118 20 STOCKHOLM
SWEDEN

MOBILE: +46 704 67 42 70
WWW.BENNETAGENCY.COM

