Best of British

Gareth Jones, Kristian Morén and Daniel Taube
200x260, 176p

Boring brown mush or perhaps a stodgy pudding and a cup of tea? We often have less than a positive idea of British food when it comes up in conversation. But now it's time to put the record straight, as sausage makers Taylors & Jones take time out to explain why English mash is just as good as French and why we should fall in love with good old British grub, just as we have with The Beatles, Big Ben and Benedict Cumberbatch. Well-known classics such as Fish and Chips and Shepherd's Pie jostle with more exotic, Dickensian-sounding dishes such as Cullen Skink, Faggots and Stargazy Pie.

In Best of British we follow Gareth Jones, Kristian Morén and Daniel Taube on a gastronomic tour of the British Isles – simple and delicious and always safe and secure on the left hand side of the road.
