

STALIN'S MACARONI

Contents:

Stalin's macaroni
Schnitzel in the bank vault
Lunch on the Spirit of St Louis
Neil Armstrong's ham sandwich
Buffalo Bill's bison fillet with mushrooms
Poached salmon on the Titanic
The juice that Michael Jackson never drank
Napoleon's tasty chicken casserole
Meat balls that floored Floyd
Mrs Pankhurst's vegetarian soup
Iron Maiden's tuna sandwich

Stalins makaroner

Jon Rönström & Anders Ekman

225 X 280, 144 pp

Stalin's macaroni is a book with thirty-one recipes from exciting, weird or magnificent events in history where food featured in some way.

The first meal to be eaten on the moon, the recipe for the meat sauce with the macaroni that Stalin, Churchill and Roosevelt ate during the Jalta conference in 1945, and the flounder that was served at the very first Oscar gala in 1929 – they are all presented together with a short historical background.

The recipes in the book are based on authentic original recipes, on handwritten notes, old newspaper reports, some hearsay and menus from former times.

Stalin's macaroni is an attractive, entertaining and unusual book about food and history.

About the authors:

Jon Rönström is a prize-winning copywriter and Anders Ekman is good at research. They both love delving into weird details in world history – and eating good food. Stalin's macaroni is a mixture of those.

SVERIGE AB

BENNET AGENCY

SÖDER MÄLARSTRAND 21
118 20 STOCKHOLM
SWEDEN

MOBILE: +46 704 67 42 70

WWW.BENNETAGENCY.COM

