Forget everything you have learnt about bobbin lace. Inspiration guaranteed!

Bobbin lace making is a centuries-old craft known worldwide, and “modern” might not be the first word you associate with it. Tarmo Thorström learned bobbin lace basics from an 80-years-old lady and then started asking “what if?”.

This book is a fascinating log of Thorström’s explorations with new materials and out-of-the-box ideas. What if you use reflective thread, industrial wire and liquorice strings? Driven by a passion for innovation, Thorström delves deep into the subject, dreams up wild things and documents the work process meticulously. What if you want a bobbin lace hammock? This book is for any bobbin lace maker mastering the basics and looking for inspiration.

About the author

Tarmo Thorström is a school teacher specialized in crafts. He is a lace explorer who set out to find the limits of bobbin lace making and keeps on searching.
