Lidt farve på drengen

Kim Jepsen & Koushihan Radhakrishnan

220 x 265, 144p

Colourful knits for men contains patterns for unique, knitted menswear.

The inspiration behind the patterns was found in many different places, from the paint-covered table at the local daycare center to the London Underground. The idea for the book came up when the authors had themselves unsuccessfully searched for patterns for a knitted jumper. After a long search they realised that there weren't many patterns for knitted menswear – an excellent reason for creating this book!

The patterns are simple, yet original and quirky. We are shown many different techniques from which both beginners and more experienced knitters can learn, and many exciting projects.

The book also contains brief articles and other information telling the story behind the different designs.

About the authors:

Koushihan Radhakrishnan and Kim Jepsen are a couple, and so share all the yarn in the house. Koushi, who is known from The Great Danish Knit-Off, is the quirky, creative, and colourful one. Koushi spots designs and techniques and finds inspiration for the knitwork. Kim, on the other hand, is the technically skilled knitter, transforming Koushi's funky ideas into applicable patterns.
