210x270, 108pp

The new parents' "invaluable" handbook!

How do you choose a name for your child? What sort of food do you prepare when you are in a real hurry? And how do you fill those days when there suddenly seems to be unlimited time to kill?

A witty and entertaining "First Aid" in the art of looking after young children.

Some chapters from the book:

- Useful myths (you get cramp if you swim within an hour of eating...)
- Recipes (when there isn't enough time)
- Funny stories for children
- Developmental phases (about your children)
- Vocabulary A to Z
- Challenges for bored parents
- Tips for games
- The ten greatest advantages with having children...
- ... and lots more.

Written with a large portion of warmth and humour. The perfect present for all parents of young children!
